Indiana's Favorite Son Now Looks As a Prospective Presidential Candidate, As William G. McAdoo Loses Ground

THREE STATES SWING VOTE

On the Ninetieth Ballot Missouri, Nevada And Oklahoma Swing into the Ralston Column, Bringing His Total Vote to 159½

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 8. — The drive for Senator Ralston as the Democratic presidential nominee with Missouri, Nevada, and Oklahoma swinging into the Ralston column on the 90th ballot today; the Senator's total vote raised to 159½, the biggest vote that has been given any dark horse since the opening of the convention.

Governor Smith got 351 on this ballot, while W. G. McAdoo went over the 300 mark, with only a margin of 14.

It is now developing a wet and dry vote. Efforts have been made to secure votes from Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, but so far have been unsuccessful in wresting a single one from those quarters.

Ninety-second ballot. — Total votes cast, 1096—Smith 355½, McAdoo 310½, J. W. Davis 69½, Underwood 45½, Ralston 196½, Glass 26½, Robinson 20, Saulsbury 6, Ritchie 16½, Walsh 4½, Cummings 8½, Houston 2, Meredith 26, Governor Bryan 8, Callahan 1.

The convention adjourned this afternoon at 1:45, to convene again this evening at 8 o'clock, standard time. The sessions to-day have been enlivened with a phenomenal gain by Ralston, who has been marching along steadily until he now has a vote of 196½. McAdoo has been the heaviest loser today, dropping down to his new low level of

SOCIALISTS TO COOPERATE WITH THE PROGRESSIVES

Cleveland, Ohio, July 8.—The Socialist National convention today laid plans to actively cooperate with Progressives in the campaign to elect Senator Robert M. La Follette, president on an independent ticket.

A permanent executive committee of seven members to handle the details of the campaign and confer with leaders of the conference for Progressive political action at the latter's next meeting in Washington July 18 was to be selected by the convention at the final session today.

314 votes. Smith has been a slight loser today, but nothing to the extent of McAdoo. The vote as cast on the 93rd ballot is as follows: Underwood 44½, Robinson 19, McAdoo 314, Smith 355½, Saulsbury 6, Ralston 196½, Ritchie 16½, Bryan 8, Glass 27, Davis 68, Walsh 1½, Meredith 26, and Cummins 8½.

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 8.—Now for a nomination. On this, the eighth day of balloting in the Democratic National convention, the forest of ballots may be regarded as sufficiently cleared under foot to permit the delegates to begin finding a path leading to a presidential candidate.

As matters stood on the final ballot taken last night—the 87th of the convention—neither Governor Smith nor William G. McAdoo controlled the convention through holding a vote power. McAdoo had dropped to second place with a vote of 333½. And though Smith had passed the Californian, he was short of his high mark of the convention and lacked 4½ votes

Cops to Appear In Their New 'Duds' Thursday

Arrayed in new uniforms and accessories which will make them appear on the streets Thursday resplendent with lustre, Chief of Police James A. Murphy and the five patrolmen of the 1st district engaged this morning admiring their new paraphernalia, ordered by Charleroi council from the Pittsburgh Uniform Tailoring Company, Jenkins Arcade building, Pittsburgh.

The uniform to be worn by Chief Murphy will be a dark blue serge coat and trousers of blue broadcloth, with cap to match; those to be worn by the policemen will be of dark gray with gray caps to match. With the uniforms, made to measure, were sent shields, leggings, and revolver holsters. While the officers are required to furnish their own shoes, they must not deviate from the black in color.

The quality of goods in the new uniforms is vastly superior to that of the uniforms the officers are now wearing, while the caps are of superior texture and lighter in weight.

Local Folk Attend The Meeting Sunday

On Sunday a large number of Charleroians, inclusive of ladies and gentlemen, members of the congregation and laity of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, and erstwhile parishioners of the Pleasant Valley Presbyterian church, Clarksburg, were in attendance at the re-dedication services of the Pleasant Valley Presbyterian church, Clarksburg.

The church has recently undergone extensive repairs, its interior and its exterior; the grounds and cemetery have been beautified. Two services were held on Sunday, one at 11 o'clock, and the other at 2:30.

The morning sermon and entire services were in charge of the Rev. John R. Burson. In the afternoon the services partook of a platform meeting, with addresses by former and visiting pastors. A scene which was impressive in its tendencies, a feature of the occasion, was the presentation at the 11 o'clock services, of a large Bible to the congregation by the Rev. Burson in commemoration of his mother, who spent her life service in this church, and whose deeds and kindly impulses are enshrined on the tablet of the society's memoirs.

The present pastor of the church is the Rev. Mr. Ruble, but it is through the instrumentality of the Rev. Burson, his indefatigable efforts, that re-creation of the church society is made.

The sermon and re-dedication service was in charge of the Rev. John R. Burson, a "son of the congregation." The congregational history was given by the Rev. D. A. Cooper.

The committee from the congregation was composed of Messrs. C. M. Teegarden, George Iams and Clarence Nyswander.

The ladies of the church served the banquet on the church lawn at the noon hour.

NEW TRAIN SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SUNDAY

The recently proposed new train schedule of the Pennsylvania railroad of the Monongahela division, will go into effect Sunday is the word brought by A. B. Ritchie, district passenger train representative of the Pennsylvania railroad this morning to Hon. James T. Heffan, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

A number of railroad officials met with the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday, June 25, and presented the proposed schedule for their opinion. The schedule met with satisfaction with the exception of a few points that were left open until better arrangements could be made.

One of the points that would have proved a very great disadvantage to shoppers coming from Crutcher, Fredricktown, Vilsboro, and other points in that section, was that the schedule placed the 12:18 train at noon as the last train going to Crutcher. Mr. Ritchie said this morning that the committee will meet in Memorial hall at 2 o'clock, which will mean a great deal to the Charleroi business men. Another point that wasn't entirely satisfactory was the annulment of the "bummer," but this train will not be taken off. However, it will leave Pittsburgh 10 minutes earlier than usual. Still another point that called forth much discussion was the changing of the 5:54 southbound train in the morning to 6:11. The earlier train sets the strength of the Christian Endeavor miners to work on time, but with the changing of the schedule it was the general opinion that they would not reach their work in time. The later train however, is a faster one and the miners will get to work practically the same time as before.

Train Striking A Webster Boy Causes Death

Struck by a southbound P. & E. passenger train due at Webster at 5:40 p. m., Roy Taylor, aged three and one-half years son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, died last night while sitting on a railroad tie, which resulted in his death at 12:30 this afternoon.

The lad wandered from his home last night, located below the Donora bridge, near the Railroad track, and becoming interested in watching the traffic in the Monongahela river at that point, sat down on a railroad tie, and failed to hear the approaching train. The fathers, seeing the train's approach, when but a short distance from the boy, made every effort to attract his attention to his danger by shouting from the water, but were unsuccessful. The lad was struck and knocked down to the river bank and rendered unconscious.

The father came to his rescue and summoned Dr. Byers of Webster, who ordered the boy removed to the Memorial hospital, Monongahela. He never regained consciousness.

The Taylor family is well known throughout that locality, the father being employed in the Schoonmaker-Martin Auto Agency at Donora.

Two Local Men Found Drunk In A Car Are Fined

Two Charleroi men were found by the Monongahela police early yesterday morning lying drunk in an automobile. They were lodged in the city lockup of Monongahela, and "booked" as suspicious persons.

The pair were found asleep in a Liberty touring car parked along Main street after midnight. It is said that the car is owned by a Fayette City garage. The men claimed that intoxication was caused by their drinking wine which they secured in this borough. As no damage was done to the machine, and both admitted they had been drinking, they were each fined $12 and costs, when hailed before the mayor of Monongahela.

ATTENDING THE STATE CONVENTION

Local members of the Christian Endeavor Society are attending the state convention in Pittsburgh.

A mass meeting was held last evening at Forbes Field, for delegates from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, and open to the public afterward. Homer Rodeheaver, famous as "Bill" Sun-Forbes Field each night. This morning at 8 o'clock a quiet hour service was held, after which an address on "Bible Study" was made. Confer-ences were to take place which will last until 12:15. The state executive committee will meet in Memorial hall at 2 o'clock. A citizenship banquet will follow this at 6 o'clock. A mass meeting will follow at 7:30 in Forbes Field, the principal address will be given by Curtis D. Withm, secretary of the navy, whose topic will be "Preparedness. Afloat and Ashore."

Arrangements have been completed for a parade Wednesday afternoon designed to show the state-wide strength of the Christian Endeavor movement. John C. Forbes, Jr. is the chairman of the parade committee. Major W. H. Davis will be parade marshal. The route of march will be along Fifth avenue, to Liberty avenue and thence to the North Side by way of Sixth and Federal streets. Six divisions of delegates at least seven brass bands and large groups of junior and intermediate Christian Endeavor members will be in line.

The Knights and Dames of Malta, their families and sweethearts, together with their friends and believers in the principles as incorporated in Maltesism, will meet in the lodge rooms of Valley Echo Commandery No. 379 this evening to celebrate the eighteenth anniversary of its institution as an organization in our midst. Aside from the refreshments, there will be a musical program.

The Knights of Malta, as a constituent body, was formally organized by Alva Gilleland of this place. The institution of the lodge took place in the Charleroi Savings & Trust Company hall, with Grand Recorder John H. Hoffman of Harrisburg conferring the work on a charter membership of 90. From this rather inauspicious beginning, has grown a local organization that contains a membership of approximately 325; and the society here is growing in point of numbers and the influence it wields, being considered one of the leading Commanderies of Western Pennsylvania.

CURTAINS DRAWN; PALL IS WITHIN

Washington, July 8.—The curtains are drawn in the East room of the White House. The president's young son has died within.

Bowed in grief at the loss of their boy—a tragedy such as has not visited the White House since Abraham Lincoln's day—President and Mrs. Coolidge remained aloof with their sorrow.

Plans for funeral services for Calvin Coolidge, Jr., who succumbed to septic poisoning shortly before midnight, after a brave fight for life, were not announced.

Only those who stood by while the nation's chief executive and his wife walked unsteadily and with haggard faces from the room at the Walter Reed Hospital where young Calvin died, saw their struggle for composure. Seeking the solitude of the White House to which the boy's body was taken, the Coolidges shut out a sympathizing world.

John Coolidge, elder brother of Calvin, Jr., was with them. The still form in the east room had been that of Calvin's body.

Not since then has a president in office lost a son in death. There was a hush over the executive mansion today. Servants and secret service men moved softly about, talking only in whispers.

The Coolidges were trying to show as little as possible of their grief. From the very first they have felt that the loss of Calvin, Jr., is a personal family affair. So it was not as president and first lady of the land that they mourned, but as a bereaved father and mother. And they wished to be alone.

Doctors said today that Calvin, Jr., lived hours longer than they had thought possible, sustained by his own courage when everyone gave up hope.

Blood transfusion, injections of saline solutions, all the knowledge and skill of medical science were brought to bear in vain.

Last night the sense of death enshrouded the great military hospital where 900 invalid soldiers lay in wards surrounding that of the son of the president.

dors were empty and quiet while outside a crowd of anxious watchers stood in the darkness with pale faces upturned toward the third floor windows of the room where the president and the boy's mother stood at bedside.

E. V. Clark, the president's personal secretary, was the intermediary between the sick room and the papers which were sent to the anxious world.

INCOME TAXES DUE DURING THE MONTH

The following statement on occupational taxes due in July is issued by Collector of Internal Revenue D. B. Heinauer, of the Twenty-third District of Pennsylvania:

HARRY FAY IS TO BOX SOLDIER BUCK ON MONDAY, JULY 14

Writing the Mail as of date, July 13, from 222 West Liberty street, Louisville, Kentucky, Charles Jones, manager of Harry Fay, informs us that Fay will box Soldier Buck 12 rounds at the Broadway Open Air Club, Louisville, on Monday, July 14. Harry Fay, who is a Charleroi boy, is winning his spurs as a boxer; he has met nearly all the good ones, and hopes are entertained that he will one day annex the middleweight crown from the head of Harry Greb. Mr. Fay has about only two worthy opponents—men of his steel and courage as found in the ring.

LOCALS TO TRY AND BEAT THE CONSUMERS HERE THIS EVENING

This season the Charleroi Independent's Baseball club has met with more reverses than usual, and the reason is apparent: the aggregation is constituted is not collectively, as strong as many of the teams it has met.

This fact has been known to Manager D. Cleve Mathers, and he has made efforts to strengthen the known weak spots, thus far with only partial success. In conversation with the gentleman, he asserted that to get players, athletes who will meet requirements, is practically impossible. To illustrate: He made overtures to one of the crack second basemen of this district, offering him a salary that approaches "big league" proportions, but the player, who was under contract, could not be induced to become a "contract breaker," however, the contract is not binding as in professional contracts.

This evening the fans may or may not see a new second baseman, a new catcher, and a new infielder, but these are the three positions which Manager Mathers is trying to fill. At any rate the attraction at the ball park at 5:45 o'clock should be sufficient to draw a large crowd, as the crack Harmarville Consumers are the attraction, and every effort will be made by Manager Mathers to capture the game.

QUESTS TO BE HELD ON THURSDAY EVENING

Corner William Greenlee will, on Thursday evening, hold inquests in the deaths of J. A. Smith, the aged gentleman who was killed in an automobile accident between here and here, and Ferdinand Bastian of Oakdale, gentleman, who was shot and killed. The inquests will be held at the offices of Deputy Coroner Michael T. Crowley, the time being set for 6:30 o'clock. Mr. Smith was octogenarian, and Mr. Bastian, 39 years old. The latter named picked up wire carrying 2,200 volts, following the most severe electrical storm visiting these parts this year.

"SHADOW OF THE EAST" CLOSES RUN TONIGHT

Motion pictures dealing with the Orient have a certain fascination if they are well done, but it is a rare thing that such a genuinely fine photoplay as "The Shadow of the East" is produced. This picture, made from E. M. Hull's novel, which will close a two day run at the Majestic Theatre tonight is truly a worthy successor of "The Shiek."

Frank Mayo as the Earl of Craven, who comes under the spell of the East and Norman Kerry as Said, a Shiek, do some of the best work of their cinematic careers. Mildred Harris, the girl in the case, and Evelyn Brent as the native lover of Barry Craven, contribute remarkable pieces of histrionic work toward the whole splendid production.

"Shadows of the East," was shown to a capacity audience at the local theatre last night. This remarkable photoplay will close a two day engagement tonight, and will no doubt draw a big capacity house.

BUCCANEERS STING THE BALL, EASILY BEATING BROOKLYN

Burleigh Grimes failed yesterday in his effort to dazzle the batting eyes of the Buccaneers with his baptized benders and the Robins had their necks wrung to the tune of 9-5, when Bill McKechnie's boys continued their slugging streak and bruised the ball relentlessly. They ran their string of victories up to three, and are now but half a game below third place.

Emil Yde, recruit southpaw from Oklahoma City, was sent upon the hill to oppose the former Pirate spitter, and he held the Superbas in check, after they counted up one point in the opener, until the eighth round, when Uncle Wilbert's fellows engaged in a brace and wreaked a certain amount of havoc, but long before this happened the Coveboys had piled up a prohibitive advantage.

The Oaklanders opened their attack upon Burleigh's watered offerings right in the beginning and by the time the first five locals had been to bat in the game, they had hopped up from behind and gained a lead which they never permitted to slip out of their fingers. When their eight frames had been reeled off, every mother's son of them had smacked the sphere into safe regions.

OLD-TIME GOLD DISTRICT NOW POPULAR WITH BIG GAME HUNTERS

HUNTERS AT KNIGHT'S QUESTNEL LAKE, CANADA

BIG GRIZZLY KILLED IN THE CARIBOO

The one-time famous gold area in British Columbia, known as the Cariboo, is coming back into the limelight as a great sporting country. Some of the most satisfactory bear and caribou hunting is to be had there and each season for the past five years has seen larger numbers of American hunters seeking their sport royal in that district.

Questnel Lake and River are growing in popularity. They are reached from Vancouver by the trans-continental line and E. S. Knight, an outfitter of that place, has built a fine camp on Lake Questnel from which short excursions lead into the best hunting areas. Fishing is exceptionally good in both lake and river, often yielding record catches of big Dolly Varden trout, Rainbow, cutthroat and lake trout are also plentiful. Knight can outfit and guide any sort of party, big or of having 366, or one-third of the voting strength necessary in exercising a veto.

SENATOR RALSTON MAY BE NOMINEE

Hence, if this situation continues to prevail today as balloting is resumed, each convention district where there rests with the outside forces. A union of the "dark horse" forces could not bring about a nomination. It would only intensify the deadlock providing McAdoo and Smith hold their present vote. But having seen their candidate beaten down below the veto mark, it is now apparent to the McAdoo managers that any one of two or three "dark horses" in the field can take more votes from him than he can muster from them. It would consequently seem that McAdoo must soon yield gracefully or be beaten down into possibly third place.

Whether there is a nomination today or tonight depends largely upon McAdoo himself, or his delegates. If McAdoo does not withdraw then the question revolves around how long he can continue to hold his present voting strength.

The program is for McAdoo to receive another bump bright and early in the morning, when the convention is scheduled to swing to Senator Samuel Ralston of Indiana.

Missouri switched to Senator Carter Glass during last night, after voting with McAdoo for a time and a switch to Ralston means an end of Missouri votes for the Californian.

Tom Taggart, campaign manager for Ralston, confidently predicts a nomination today. When all of the fighting and shouting is over Ralston's supporters expect to see him the nominee.

The Indiana delegation, which stopped voting for Ralston when the latter instructed that his name be withdrawn, resumed casting its 30 votes for him last night. Ralston's total went up to 92 and the evening ended with the Hoosier Senator in third place.

The three favorite dark horses, in the order named, are now Ralston, Robinson, and Walsh. Backers of Gov. Smith, quite naturally, do not concede that he is out of the race.

But the opinion among various delegations is that one of these three with the chances favoring Ralston, will be found acquiring a majority after the McAdoo strength is removed and having reached a majority will be pushed speedily along to a two-third vote and nomination.

McADOO MAY BE OUT OF THE HECTIC RACE

McAdoo Headquarters, Vanderbilt Hotel, New York, July 8.—Indications are now to be seen around headquarters here that William G. McAdoo may be out of the race for the Democratic presidential nomination before Monday.

A group of his floor leaders, the United Press is informed, have told him that they are now convinced he cannot win the nomination. They have suggested that he cannot be nominated by dragging the contest on indefinitely and therefore should gracefully retire. It is now up to him to decide.

The crushing drive waged upon McAdoo's forces by his allied opponents—carrying his strength down 174 votes in one day caused the change of sentiment among his managers.

Along with this development came reports from contemplated or already negotiated deals. McAdoo conferred with Mayor John F. Hylan of New York, an ally of William Randolph Hearst last night. A few hours later Hearst's newspaper, in a prominent editorial display called for the nomination of Thomas J. Walsh, Montana, chairman of the convention and a strong McAdoo man.

The McAdoo floor leaders in a conference, lasting until 2 a. m., decided to put the situation up to McAdoo personally this morning.

McAdoo is pictured as being more insistent than his managers that he remain in the race.

Emerging from the conference room William Ladd Rockwell, campaign manager for McAdoo refused for the first time to deny reports that his candidate would retire today. Previously he had always said McAdoo would never quit.

SMITH'S FOLLOWERS ARE SANGUINE OF VICTORY

United Press Headquarters, Waldorf Hotel, N. Y., July 8.—"We've got 'em licked," was the cry that went up from followers of Gov. Alfred E. Smith as the national democratic convention prepared today to take its 88th ballot.

Confident that William Gibbs McAdoo has permanently lost his power of vote, managers of Smith's campaign today made every effort to humiliate the Californian by reducing his vote in the convention below the 300 mark.

Heartened and fortified by the rapid drop of McAdoo into second place the Smith managers today had before them reports which seemed to indicate that McAdoo would withdraw from the race before another 24 hours had passed.

No attention is being paid to the drive for Ralston by the Smith adherents. The only thing which interests them is putting the governor over the top.

Both Birds and Animals

Subject to Epidemics

Dr. Herbert Fox, pathologist of the Philadelphia zoo and head of the Pepper laboratory at the university, has written a book on the diseases of wild animals and birds. For the last eighteen years Dr. Fox has been studying the tenants of the zoological garden—the only place in the world where such exhaustive work has been done.

Pulling a tiger's tooth or treating a humming bird for tuberculosis is all the same to this man of science, observes "Girard" in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Dr. Fox has laid bare many startling results. Among others he found that tuberculosis was the foe which swiftly depopulated monkey cages. Epidemics afflict birds as they do men. The inference is drawn that extinct races of animals and birds were wiped out by disease.

A practical result of Dr. Fox's search is that monkeys and other animals and birds may now live for a far longer time in captivity than formerly.

And his experiments on the epidemics among birds may give the real clue for the startling and sudden annihilation of our wild pigeons.

Cleanly Wild Animals

With every wild creature cleanliness is essential. Even the despised rat spends a large proportion of its time in cleaning itself. All the cats, from the lordly lion downward, are most particular about washing and combing their fur. The rough tongue acts as a kind of sponge, and you will notice how a cat licks her paws and noses them to clean such parts of her body as are beyond the reach of her tongue.

As a substitute for the powder so popular with feminine humanity, birds find dust invaluable. The domestic fowl loves nothing better than a dust bath. Partridges, sparrows and larks roll and flutter in the dust until their feathers are full of it.

Isles Bird Havens

Around the coast of Britain there are several islands chiefly populated by marine birds. The Farnes have been the winter resort of the older duck for generations and probably for many centuries. The Skerries off the Anglesey coast are the sanctuary of the arctic tern and the beautiful roseate tern.

Holyhead island is visited occasionally by the whooper swan, the somewhat rare tufted duck and the red-breasted merganser, says the Detroit News. Puffin island, at the entrance to the Menai strait, is named after the birds that inhabit it.

Golden Ideas

I believe happiness comes out of doing things for other people. If all rich people knew the pleasure of giving or helping others they would do so. It is the best medicine I have ever taken. When I die I will leave only a little for my children. I have never figured up what I have given away in the last thirty years. I cannot say how much I have left to give away. I know it is too much for me to keep and most of it will go.—Nathan Straus.

Odd Playing Cards

A pack of Hindustani cards in the possession of the Royal Asiatic society of England is supposed to be one thousand years old. It consists of eight suits of various colors. The kings are mounted on elephants; the viziers, or those second in rank, are men having tigers and bulls. Some of the cards have such curious marks as a pineapple in a shallow cup and an object similar to a parasol without a handle, but with two broken ribs sticking through the top.

"OIL" INDICTMENTS
The United States Grand Jury at Washington has directed public attention once more to the naval oil scandals. Former Secretary Fall and the two Dohenys, father and son, have been indicted for conspiring to defraud the United States in connection with the Elk Hills lease in California. Fall is also indicted, together with Harry F. Sinclair, for conspiring to defraud the United States in connection with the Teapot Dome lease in Wyoming. In a third indictment the two Dohenys are charged with paying Fall a bribe to influence his decision in regard to the Elk Hills lease, and in the fourth indictment Fall is charged with accepting a $100,000 bribe.
Obviously these indictments are the culmination of the exposures made during the Senate investigation without which it is probable that the whole matter would have slumbered and attracted little or no attention, for the Department of Justice under Daugherty never exhibited the slightest interest in the case. In bringing out the facts—against official opposition—the Walsh committee performed a great service to the country. For this it is deserving of praise from all quarters and will receive it ultimately, when the partisan depreciation of the moment has spent its force and served its purpose.

THE OFFICE CAT

The trig little woman with the horticultural display on her head stepped upon the pay-right-now-while-we've-got-you-car.
The conductor held out his hand for his fare.
You'll have to wait until I get inside, she told him.
Oh, no, insisted the fare-taker. You have to pay right here on these cars.
But I tell you I can't pay you until after I get inside, repeated the little woman.
Yes, but—
Here! interrupted a big man who had climbed on behind the woman. Just take her fare out of this. I know how it is. My wife carries her money that way.
Sometimes a fellow who has failed at everything else has succeeded in marrying well.
The word "Impossible" was not born in America.
A maiden with eyes like a dove stood exclaiming "Oh Heavens Above!"

How in time she can fall out of love!
Don't believe all you hear—especially the disagreeable things. No man's mind was ever big enough to hold facts if they're surrounded with a lot of useless words.
Time waits for no man—but women aren't men.

ADVERTISING
Advertisements are funny things sometimes, as for example, these which all actually were printed:
"A respectable young woman wants washing."
"I will make coats, caps and boas for ladies out of their own skins."
"I want an overseer who can take care of 5,000 sheep who can speak French fluently."
"Wanted—A girl who can cook; one who will make a good stew."
"I want a husband with a strong Roman nose with strong religious tendencies."
"I will sell a fiddle of old wood that I made out of my own head and have wood left for another."
"For Sale—A small stock of the same whisky drunk by his Majesty on his recent trip to Dublin."
"$100 reward for the recovery of the body of Hale Short, drowned in the river on the night of the 17th. The body can be recognized by the fact that Short had an impediment in his mouth."
Our guess is that vulcanizing was discovered by studying a movie kiss.

SCOUT DUFFLE BAG
BY H. S. HALL,
Scout Executive.

Good Sportsmanship.
Once more Scouting has displayed its value as a movement for character building, through a mistake in awarding medals to the highest individual point winners in the outdoor Championship held June 26. Reino Ruuti, of Troop No. 1 of Monessen, to whom the first honor medal was awarded, after checking up was found to have won third place rather than first, and that Howard Hill of Troop No. 1 of CharleROI, had won first place. In displaying good sportsmanship, one of the characteristics of the movement, Scout Ruuti has sent his medal for first place to its rightful possessor, with a little note congratulating him upon his victory; although it must have caused him considerable disappointment to lose this honor, yet he has gained far more, and has shown the way to all the boys in his troop, to good sportsmanship. This is the true Scout spirit.
Outdoor Scouting Championship.
The most successful Scouting meet that has ever been run off, was held June 26, in Donora, in which Troop No. 1 of CharleROI won first place, with 40 points. Troop No. 1 of Monessen came in second with 28 points, and Troop No. 7 of CharleROI scored 12 points. Medals were given to the three boys scoring the highest number of individual points. These medals were won by Howard Hill of Troop No. 1 of CharleROI; Harvey Loughead of the same troop, and Reino Ruuti of Troop No. 1 of Monessen. Their individual records were 8½ points, 8 points and 7½ points respectively. Through the cooperation of Scout Executives A. Benson of Pittsburgh, V. L. Huntsberger and R. Gardner of Homestead, Richard Greensburg and R. C. Will of Uniontown, this meet was run off in record time of 2 hours and 5 minutes.
Court of Honor.
The largest Court of Honor ever held in the Valley took place in CharleROI June 26, when 43 boys were reviewed and awarded their second-place medals.
The Monessen Court of Honor will hold a session on Wednesday, July 2, at which about 20 boys will come before to be reviewed and awarded. A number of Merit badges, as well as several First Class honors will be awarded at this time.

What the World Is Doing

"Two-in-One" Electric Engine Has Gear Shift
By simply shifting the gears, the "L-5" engine-weighs 408,000 pounds and can be operated with direct or alternating current. It was assembled in a month's time said to be a record for the Altoona shops of the railroad, and was exhibited in Philadelphia as the latest development in electric engines; those commonly used being geared for only one type of service, either freight or passenger.

starting tractive effort of 100,000 pounds, and will haul a heavy freight train at a 23-mile-an-hour clip. This "two-in-one" engine weighs 408,000 pounds and can be operated with direct or alternating current. It was assembled in a month's time said to be a record for the Altoona shops of the railroad, and was exhibited in Philadelphia as the latest development in electric engines; those commonly used being geared for only one type of service, either freight or passenger.
Testing Battery Polarity
A simple method of determining the polarity of a battery or cell, and at the same time roughly measuring its strength, is as follows: Dissolve 1 part of potassium iodide in 25 parts of water; place the solution in a shallow dish, soak several pieces of moist blotting paper in it, then remove them and allow to dry. To use, moisten a piece of the prepared paper and touch it with wires leading from both poles of the battery, keeping them about ½ in. apart. A dark-brown spot will immediately be produced where the wire from the positive pole touches the blotter. A dead cell or battery will produce no spot. The color produced, by touching the spot with which the spot is formed, and the shade of the color produced, will soon enable one to tell the condition of the battery fairly accurately, whether it is nearly dead, half charged, or fully charged. This method is applicable to both storage batteries and dry cells, although the wires must be further apart in the case of storage batteries.
Cleaning Crystals with Alcohol
The sensitiveness of a crystal determines to a great extent the receiving range of a set. Some crystals are much better than others in this respect, but even good ones are soon spoiled by improper care. Air causes the surface of crystals to become gradually, and of course decreases its efficiency. Dust particles in the air also lodge on the surface and adhere to it. The most trouble is, however, caused by handling the crystal, as the oil on the hands and fingers, which is imperceptible to the naked eye, insulates the surface of the crystal, and for this reason crystals should never be touched. An excellent method of cleaning crystals, which will in many cases restore the original sensitiveness, is to give them a bath in alcohol, using an old toothbrush to scrub them.
Salt Is Tougher than Steel
Strands of wire made from ordinary rock salt by a Russian chemist are reported to be tougher than those of steel. The inventor expects the process to aid in hardening and strengthening common metals, and believes that the treatment, if applied to other minerals may result in materials that would permit moving machinery to travel at much greater speeds. The scientist is said to put raw rock salt under high heat pressures, thus changing its form and increasing its flexibility and strength.

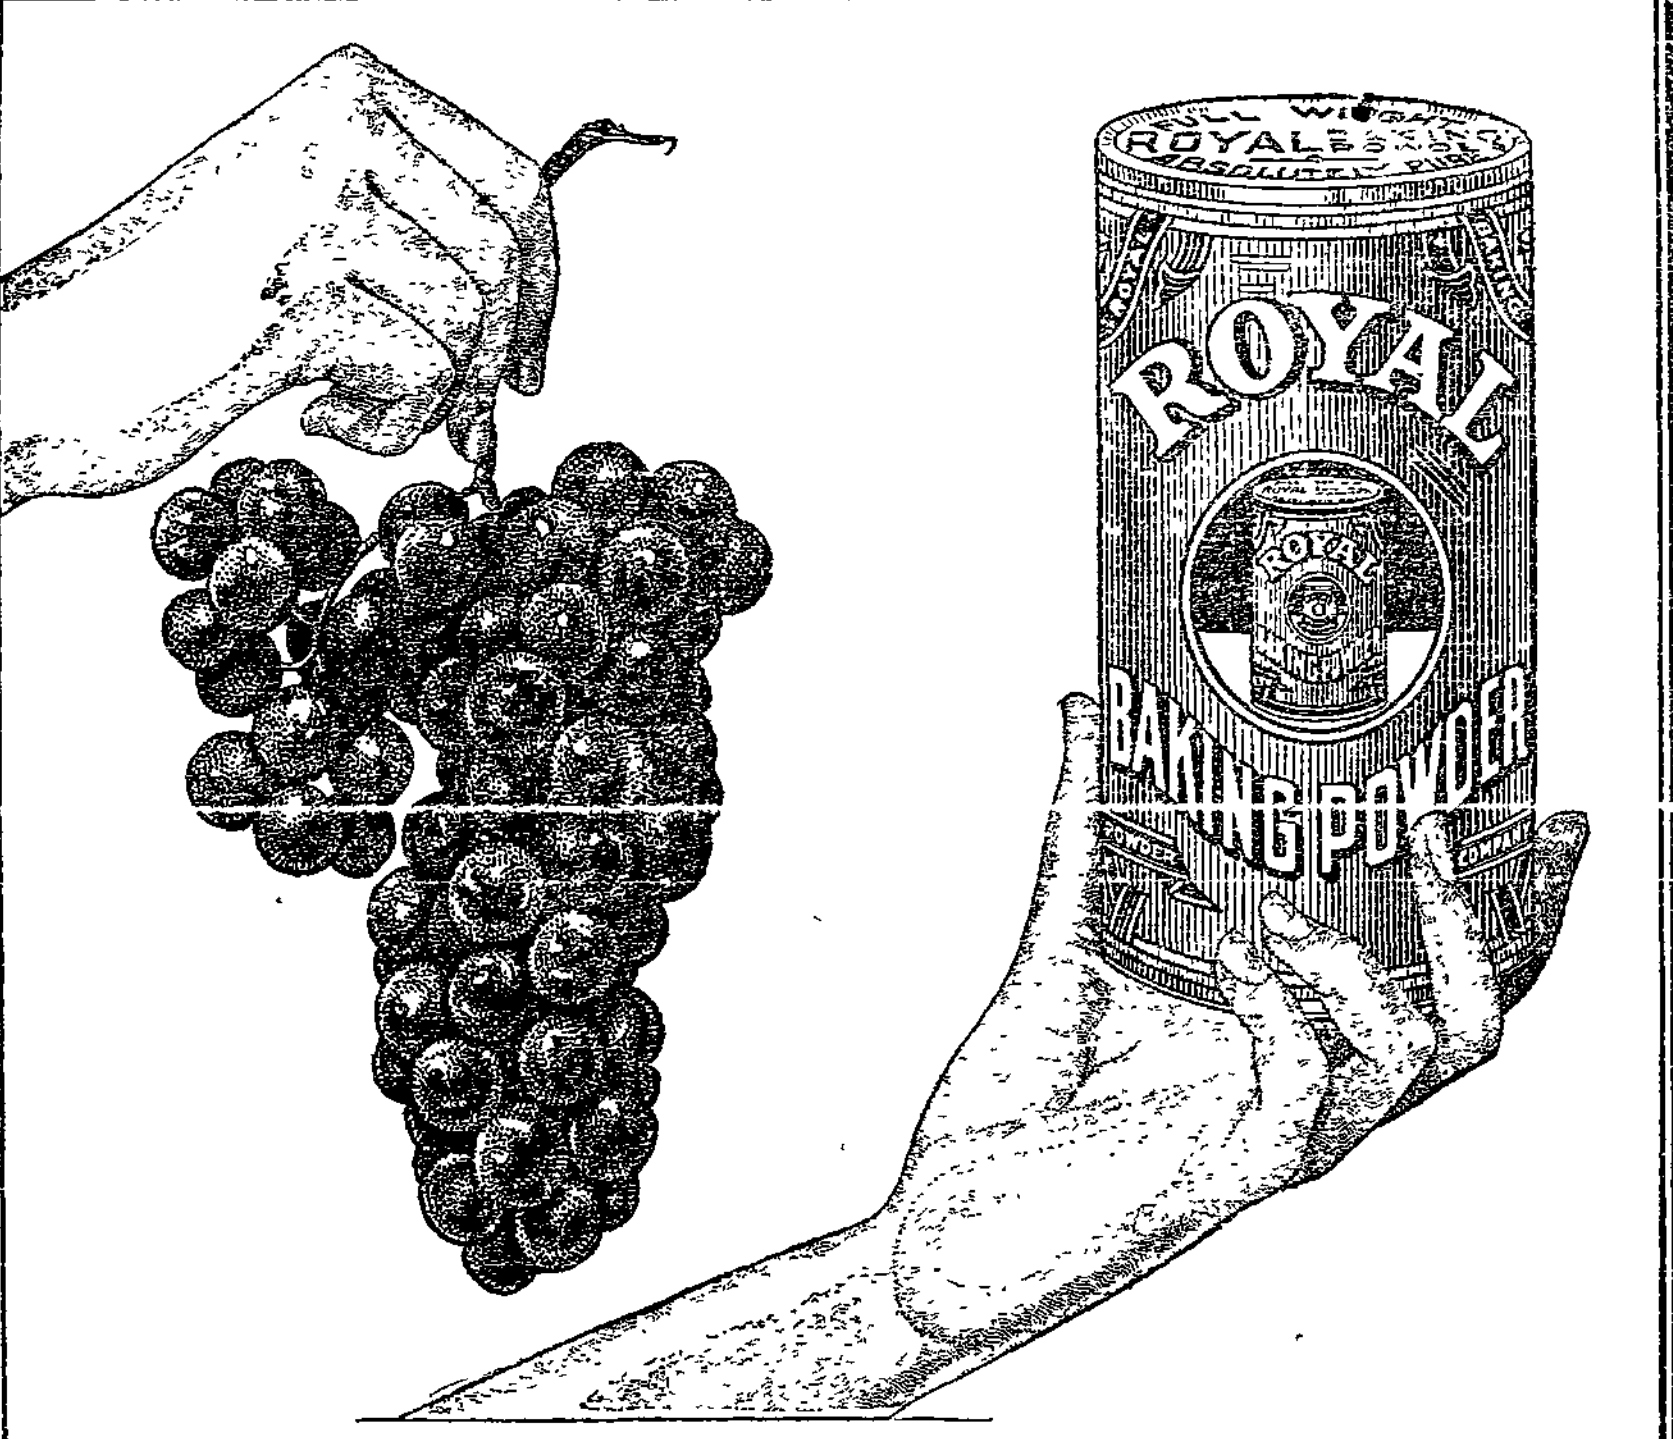

have definitely been set as follows:
July 21 to August 4, CharleROI and Donora.
August 4 to August 18, Monongahela and Monessen.
The boys, whose hearts have been set on going to camp this year, will rejoice to learn of the fact that once more "Mother" Gottbrath of Donora will be on hand to provide them with the same plentiful supply of good things to eat, for which she became famous last year at camp. She will, this year, have an assistant, and thus be relieved of a lot of hard work, which will enable her to have more time to spend on menus and planning of attractive dishes.
A Real Good Turn.
It became necessary to construct a new spring house and water unit at the new camp and to lay 800 feet of pipe. As soon as the matter was talked of, the water men from the Tri-Cities Water company of CharleROI volunteered to lay the line, and last Sunday, under their foreman, William Ludwig, who is also a CharleROI Scoutmaster, they went to camp and completed the work which would have cost the Council several hundred dollars but for their cooperation. This is a real Scouting Good Turn and shows that the spirit of the movement is reaching throughout the Valley.
Monessen Scouts Handle Traffic.
On Saturday, June 26, as well as several Saturdays preceding that, the Monessen Scouts turned out to assist Chief Horne in his traffic problem. They were stationed along Donner avenue and did a great deal toward directing the traffic.

CHILD BURNED WILL RECOVER

Mary Ellen Fitzgerald, aged 4 years and six months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Fitzgerald of 509 Crest avenue, who has been lying critically ill at her home since the Fourth, when she was badly burned about the hands, face and shoulders, passed the crisis last night and the attending physicians say that she will live.

The near tragedy occurred about 8 o'clock, the night of the Fourth. Just as Mary Ellen was discarding the glowing wire of a burned sparkler, while standing on the front porch of her home, her attention was diverted by a skyrocket in the air and the wire came in contact with her flimsy organdie dress. Immediately her clothing was a mass of flames. The presence of mind and quick action of her mother, who was standing near, saved the child from a horrible death. She immediately rolled the little victim in a rug that was lying on the porch and extinguished the flames, but not before they had burned the child badly about the face, shoulders and hands. The little girl lay for some time over her mouth and nose, which prevented her inhaling any of the flames. Since that time the child's life has been hanging in the balance, but according to reports this morning she will be spared to her parents. Mrs. Fitzgerald was burned about the hands in the effort to save her daughter.

WOMAN AND SON HIT BY AUTO

Mrs. Al Hank and her 15-year old son, Clifford, of Park avenue, Monongahela, are confined to their home by injuries sustained about 12 o'clock Sunday night when they were struck by a Dodge touring car owned and operated by Adam Campbell, of Van Voorhis.

Mrs. Hank and her son were crossing First street when Campbell's car bore down upon them. Both victims of the accident were thrown to the street and were cut and bruised about the body. Pedestrians picked them up and assisted them to a nearby physician's office where they were given first aid treatment and taken to their home. Campbell stopped the machine and remained at the scene of the accident with Robert Morrison, of Black Diamond, who was a passenger in his car. Both men were arrested by police and taken to the lockup where Morrison was released when he posted without bail, pending a hearing. Later charges of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, reckless driving and being without a driver's license were lodged against him. At a preliminary hearing before Mayor H. T.
